The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s mischievousness and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper to find Aunt Polly in a terrible state. The school has sent word that he has been skipped school that afternoon and must report in the morning. Tom’s school fees are still seven dollars, and he has no pocket money. Tom’s half-brother, Joe, has run away, and Aunt Polly is satisfied. Tom has sworn the boy himself to disgrace his family and that the news comes all the way from New York. Tom goes out of the house to chase the newspaper boy. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom and the newsboy join a group of boys playing whistling. While wondering and wandering, Tom and the newsboy eventually chase the newsboy all the way back home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Joe passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of whistle. Joe almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his task.

Life Is Worth Losing is the 18th album and thirteenth HBO special by American comedian George Carlin. It was recorded simultaneously with the live broadcast of the HBO special of the same title, his 13th HBO stand-up comedy special, and was his final special recorded from the Beacon Theater. The set was designed to resemble a snow-coated graveyard. It is the first project Carlin had undertaken...

As you prepare to invest, you'll need to assess your net worth. It's not hard: add up what you own and subtract what you owe. Creating a net worth statement, and updating it each year, will help you monitor your financial progress and meet financial goals. It will also enable you to calculate how much you have (or don't have) to invest.
